Regional Inflation

At the regional level, the overall year-on-year inflation ranged from 1.9% in Upper West Region to 15.1% in Greater Accra Region (See Figure 3). Only in the Upper West Region (-0.6% Food inflation and 4.5% Non-Food inflation), did Food outpace Non-Food inflation. The largest difference in Food and Non-Food inflation was recorded in Eastern Region (12.8% and 2.6% respectively). Overall, year-on-year inflation came down in six regions compared to last month, with the biggest decrease in Central Region (minus 1.8 percentage points) and the largest increase in Ashanti Region (0.9 percentage points).

Food and Non-Food Inflation

Food inflation (12.8%) came down compared to last month (14.1%), but is still slightly above the average over the last 12 months (12.3%). With this rate, Food contributed 57.0% to the total inflation. This is still above the average for the last year and a half, but slightly down from last month (59.1%) (see Figure 6 on the final page).

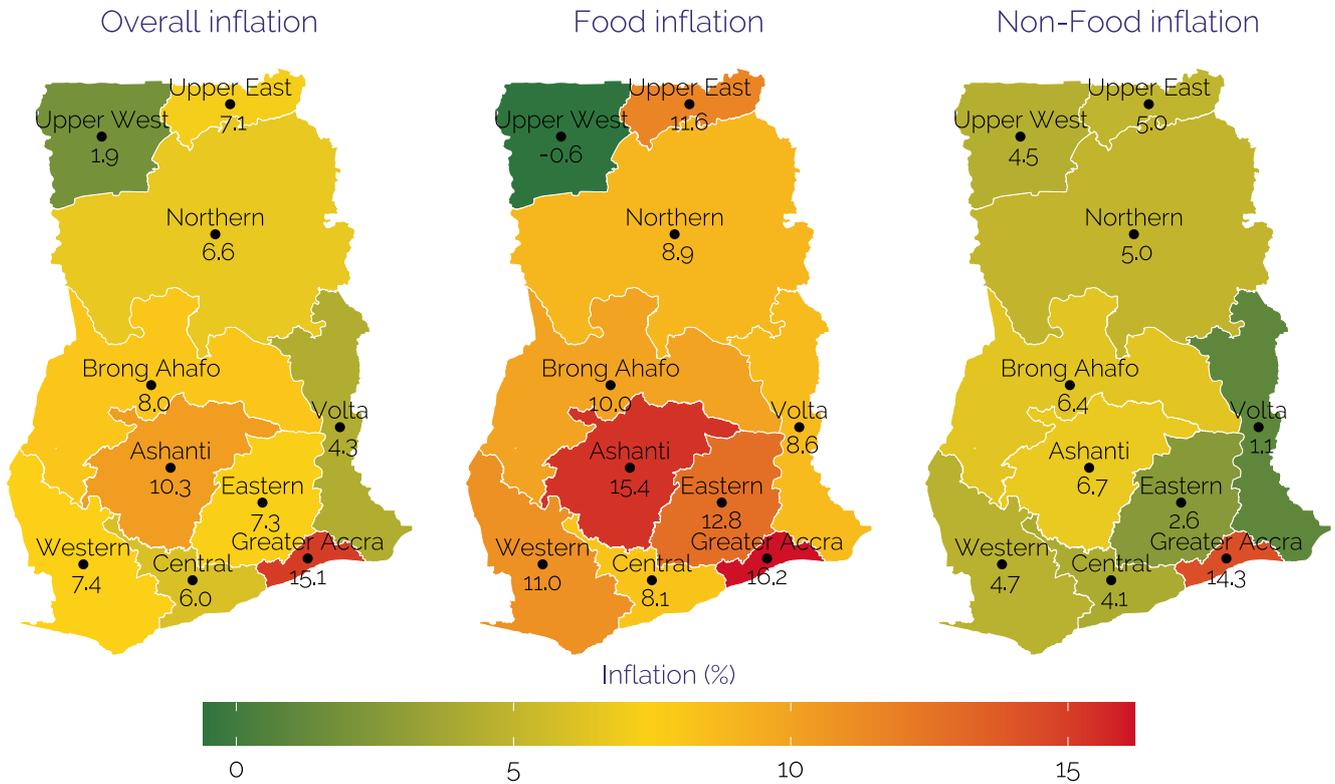

Within the Food Division, Vegetables (20.3%) was the Subclass with the highest rate of inflation, which is lower than last month (24.2%)(see Figure 4). Overall month-on-month Food inflation was 1.2% (0.3 percentage point lower than last month, but higher than the average over the last 12 months). Compared to last December 2020, Fruits and Nuts (-5.1%) saw a decrease in price levels, as did Fish and Other Seafood (-0.2%). Similar to last month, Alcoholic Beverages and Tobacco saw a relatively high month-on-month inflation (1.4%).

Non-Food year-on-year inflation on average was the same as last month (7.7%), which is below the 2020 average (8.5%). Out of the 13 Divisions, five had higher year-on-year inflation in January 2021 than the rolling average over the last 12 months. The biggest difference between the average and the current month were recorded for Housing (2.1 percentage points) and Education services (minus 4.1 percentage points) (see Figure 1). Average month-on-month Non-Food inflation was 0.7%. For month-on-month inflation, eight Divisions recorded higher inflation than the 12-month rolling average. At the regional level, a similar trend exists (see Figure 5).
